and changes in the course of international commerce, defend their rights; for though commercial depression may prevent them from making profits to be hoarded or expended in the improvement of their estates, they may procure sustenance from them. But it is not so with the landless millions. Their estates consist of their thoughts and sinews, of the training of their eyes and hands to quick co-operative action; of their taste for and esthetic in the production of the attractive in form, texture and color; of inventive genius, which enables them, by new combinations of mechanical principles, or the application of science to the arts, to increase the productive power of nations. These and the like aptitudes constitute the estate of millions of people who are known as artists, artisans, laborers or by other terms of designation, and who have the right to demand that their estate shall be defended by the nation, though their defense shall require other agencies than the power of navy or army. The daily wages of these toiling millions are units of measurement by which their estates are sold and their means of comfort and health ascertained. And, I repeat, it is the duty of the government so to adjust the regulation of its trade and commerce as to secure to its own people whatever benefits are to be derived from the development of the material resources of the country and the conversion of the native raw material into useful commodities.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press says the Northern Pacific railroad has demonstrated the entire practicability of the rotary snow plow, and utters a shout of joy that the snow blockade will now be a thing of the past. It readily clears drifts six to eight feet deep at a speed of 15 to 20 miles an hour. But for the present there is one drawback—they cannot be obtained now to be of use the present winter, because they cannot be built in time. Those in use on the Northern Pacific were an experiment, but by another winter the road will have them stationed at such points as shall make it possible to keep the roads open and trains running to their entire length. If all this shall be true it will be a grand thing for the road and for the public.

Secretary Whitney has named the two armored cruisers Maine and Texas. He found that he was forced by law to use names of states and in order to disarm criticism arbitrarily selected the northernmost and southernmost commonwealths. It is a pity that he did not consult lines of longitude rather than latitude. Washington and Virginia would have furnished more euphonious and significant names for the big cruisers.

Providence Journal: The condition under the prohibitory law in this state at present is simply free ruin, plus the open violation and contempt of state law.

But that is not the fault of the law that prohibition does not succeed in Rhode Island. The authorities and not the prohibitory law, are the ones responsible for bringing the open violation of the law to contempt.

It is announced that the balance of trade between the United States and the whole world, for the year 1887, was in favor of the United States to the amount of $6,533,647. Considering the large amount of coffee, sugar, spices and other necessities of life which are imported, and which are not produced here, this is a very encouraging showing.

Work is being pushed at the bureau of engraving and printing on the $2 and $5 silver certificates, for which the present demand is greatly in excess of the supply. It is thought that there will be sufficiently large stock obtained early in February to meet all calls.

The Rev. Theodore W. Haven, pastor of the Congregational church at Battle Creek, Michigan, who is supposed to have left New York city, January 11, has not been seen since, and no clue to his whereabouts can be discovered.

His theory of heredity in genius or good morals receives a shock in the case of Andrew Freizell, grandson of Dr. Alex. Freizell, the eminent Swedish historical writer, who has been sent to prison for stealing $10 in pennies.

Republicans are organizing rapidly throughout the country. It is noticeable that these clubs have for their object the success of the republican party and principles and not the support of any individual republican.

Senator Plumb has introduced a bill in which he proposes to dispose of the "Xo Man's Land" problem by attaching the most despoiled territory to Kansas as a part and parcel of that commonwealth.

The Chicago Tribune has found a man who agrees with it on the wool question. He is a manufacturer, and wants the duty taken off wool, but demands that it shall remain on woolen manufactures.

The Earth Shaken by Dynamite. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 31.—A great quantity of dynamite was exploded Sunday night in Newport harbor to break the ice. The ice was cracked in the harbor to a distance of eighteen miles. The shock of the explosion was felt at Fall River, Mass., Hope Valley, R. I., Bristol, Warren, this city and other points, and was at first thought to be an earthquake.

Breaks the Record. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 31.—In a game with Eugene Carter, at Callahan's Hall, Monday night, Jacob Schaefer broke the record in fourteen-hundred ball-hits with a run of 284. In his last game with Vignaux in New York he made 250 at this style of billiards, which was the best record up to last night.

Two cowboys, who attempted to "run" the town of Buffalo Gap, D. T., were attacked by a body of citizens and shot dead.

CANDY FAILURE.

Special to the Gazette. CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—The extensive candy manufacturers, Frye & Kleinbeck, Michigan street, have failed. Their assets are reported to be nearly sufficient to cover their liabilities.

THE ICE BLOCKADE.

Special to the Gazette. NANTUCKET, Jan. 31.—This city continues ice bound, which has prevented the landing of boats for the past two weeks, during which time no mails have arrived. Coal and provisions are running short, and a serious time is feared.

A PITTSBURG FIRE.

Special to the Gazette. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 31.—The store of Heard, Eber & Easton, large dry goods dealer on Market street, this city, was badly damaged by fire this forenoon. The origin of the fire is unknown.

IOWA LEGISLATURE.

The Cummins License Bill Introduced in the House—Other Work in Both Branches. DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 31.—In the House yesterday Mr. Cummins, of Polk, introduced his license bill, which provides that in any city of over 10,000 inhabitants the council may submit the question of license to the qualified electors, and upon an affirmative vote may license dram shops for not less than $1,000. Mr. Robinson introduced a bill amending the law relative to granting permits to sell liquors for lawful purposes. It provides that the applicant for permit shall first obtain evidence to the effect that a majority of the voters of his ward or township, setting forth that he is a moral citizen, a qualified pharmacist. It also provides for bonds of $5,000, to be forfeited if the law is violated.

In the Senate the Registry law was passed. A resolution by Senator Meservy was passed requesting the Railway Commissioners to demand that the railroad companies in North-western Iowa shall furnish cars for moving products of that section, the lack of which has caused great damage. Bills were introduced providing for a supervisor of the State printing and for letting it by contract; to amend the law relating to capital punishment; to repeal the law relating to the Iowa weather service and establishment of the office to receive the law relating to the location of telegraph and telephone lines and enacting a substitute therefor; to provide for establishing a normal school at Angola, Ia.; providing for a maximum charge for transmitting telegraphic messages. The Committee on Railroads met yesterday morning, and it is currently reported, agreed to report Thursday next favorably on Young's bill for a two-cent passenger rate—$18 for 100 mile mileage ticket.

A message was read from Governor Lurabee concerning furnishing additional testimony in the prosecution of State claims against the general Government, recommending that a bill be drawn up empowering the Governor to provide a contingent fund for necessary expenses. Received.

A BLAZE IN BROADWAY.

A Loss of $1,400,000 Estimated by the Burning of Several Large Business Houses in New York. NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—An hour and thirty minutes yesterday morning four great business houses on Broadway were destroyed by fire and several others badly damaged. The loss is estimated at $1,400,000. The fire started in the basement of the building occupied by Henry Rogers, fancy-goods dealer at 619 Broadway. From there the flames spread. Assistant Foreman Kelly was badly injured and several others hurt in an explosion that occurred. The following are the losses: Losses by Fire—S. H. March, revers and feathers, $200,000; Henry Rogers, fancy goods, $200,000; J. S. Libby & Co., millinery ornaments, $100,000; Charles A. Yost & Co., clothers, $50,000; J. S. Libby & Co., shirts, $50,000; Malcomson & Co., clothers, $50,000; J. C. Stewart & Co., clothing, $50,000; Louis Metzger, millinery, $50,000; Back & Nichols, clothing, $50,000; Mitchell and Pland, $50,000. Losses by Water—William Brown, $5,000; J. H. Humber, straw hats, $5,000; Samuel Leventhal, neck-wear, $5,000; Schwab & Sons, $5,000; J. P. Macdonald, $5,000; J. H. Knappert, $5,000; Stein, Falk & Co., $5,000; P. K. Wilson & Son, $5,000; Roberts & Kaufman, $5,000. The damage to the buildings is about $300,000. The insurance amounts to millions and covers the damage.

THE BLOCKADE LIFTED.

The Great Storm in the Eastern States Ends Finally—Trains Now Able to Make Their Way Through the Big Drifts—Cattle Feared to Death. NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The fury of the storm which began Thursday and which swept the railroads of Northern and Eastern New York with snow was not spent until Saturday afternoon. The snow piled up to such a height that the railroads up to that time completely at their mercy, began a vigorous fight against the drifts, which ended in a complete victory. Unless more snow falls to-day the blockade of New York by snow may be said to have ended.

Recaptured, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Sunday an idea of the fury of the three-days' blizzard was obtained when the New York Central road, between Buffalo and Syracuse, there were several live-stock trains when the storm came on. An effort was made to run them to points where the stock could be sheltered, but in spite of all efforts nearly frozen car-loads of cattle and hogs, destined for Boston and New York, were frozen to death near Tarrytown, and several car-loads at other points.

A PAIR OF GHOULS.

Brother and Sister Confess to Having Been Grave-Robbing for Many Years. WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Percy Brown, an ex-convict grave-robbler, has been arrested here for robbing graves in the prominent cemeteries of Washington. He and his sister Maude, each past 70, live in a suburban apartment near the city and have been jointly engaged in this work for many years. She says they were born in Russia, of wealthy parents. She became the wife of a president of the Royal Medical College, and thus became familiar with the dissection rooms and the arts of the trade she now practices. She and her brother whose home has been for years almost within the shadow of the capitol, have despoiled, she says, probably 500 graves.

LUCK FOR LEO.

The Pope's Jubilee Gifts Valued at Over $20,000,000.

ONE-HALF THAT AMOUNT IN CASH.

Other Articles Received Will Seven Thousand Cases—Additions Erected to the Building in Which They Are to Be Displayed.

MILLIONS FOR THE POPE. BAITMORE, Md., Jan. 31.—The Star's Rome correspondent furnishes an interesting description of the Pope's jubilee gifts. The gifts have come in so rapidly that two additions have already been made to the building in which they are to be exposed. So far 7,000 cases of articles have been handled, and the end is not yet. Up to January 13 presents to the value of $10,000,000 have passed through the hands of the Vatican inspectors. Even this sum has been exceeded in money. The United States has contributed every other country in cash donations, but the exact sum can not be ascertained, as all the contributions have not been received. This manner of tallying to Pope Leo the fealty of the Catholics of the United States has won the admiration of the Pope, who is more pleased with it than that of any other country, since it testifies how with ready means to spread the Catholic church through Europe and parts of the far East, enterprises for which he has thrown his heartiest energies. In preparation to the number of Catholics in various countries, Belgium and Hungary have sent the most gifts. Every thing used in the Catholic service is there in profusion.

The Irish Catholics, besides their heavy money contributions, are represented by rolls of Irish linens, cases of vestments, golden altar vessels and ornaments in abundance, and the most curious of porcelain in the exposition. Patriotism and religion have been prettily blended by them in this portion of their offerings, as is shown in a beautiful oval mirror, framed in the wands surmounted by the stars and keys of Peter. At the base is the harp of Erin resting on a bed of Shamrock. Many of the tributes from Ireland remain unpacked.

BATTLING WITH A BLIZZARD. The Heroism of a Teacher Who Tried to Save Three Little Ones from Death.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 31.—Stories of heroism and terrible suffering during the great blizzard of January 22 are coming in from some of them more than rival the heroic tales of fiction. The wife and courageous act of the young lady teacher who strung her thirteen pupils together, tied them to bushes and carried them to a house over a half-mile distant is familiar to every body. But the case of a young lady teacher named Louise Royce surpasses any other instance, both in the splendid courage displayed and in the protracted agony endured.

Miss Royce was teaching eight miles northeast of Plainview. On that fatal day she had three pupils—two little boys and one little girl—all very young. When the storm set in she started for the nearest house, twenty rods distant, with the children, facing the sweeping, blinding, bitter blast—very Arctic gale. The children were so cold they began to become bewildered and lost both the house and school-house. After wandering around trying to find shelter the children refused to move, in fact, were chilled and exhausted. She crouched in the snow in an open field, with her back to the storm, nestled the children under her wraps, pressed them close to her, and cheered and warmed them as best she could.

The fury of the storm increased incessantly. She called for help, but could not be heard two rods away. For six terrible hours she fought desperately with death. She clasped the freezing hands and feet of the children. She spoke words of comfort, tried to ward off the keen arrows of death from the north, did every thing possible to keep the little ones alive. Her own strength failed. But it could not be done. At about 9 o'clock at night one little boy fell asleep—forever—and was laid upon the snow. Then began the battle for the other children. Her own hands and feet froze stiff. Chilled and almost ready to fall with exhaustion, she kept them alive until about 7 a. m., when the other little boy was overpowered by the cold and was stretched upon the snow. In three hours more the little girl also passed away and was placed beside the little boy.

The storm was then somewhat abated, and Miss Royce was able to see the house, about thirty rods distant, and, by summoning all her courage and strength, was able to drag herself to the door and will probably survive, though both feet must be amputated.

HE HAD TO DO IT.

A Maniac Farmer Shot and Killed by His Son While Attempting to Kill His Wife and Daughter.

WACHTON, Mo., Jan. 31.—Last Sunday evening at Center Sidney, a town adjoining Augusta, a man named Edward Westworth, 40 years of age, was fatally shot. He had a family of thirteen children, all of whom were at home but one. He was very cruel to them, and Sunday evening after beating his wife struck a daughter and threw her down and was shooting her when the wife intervened with him, upon which he leaped up, exclaiming: "D—you! I will kill all of you!" He started toward the well where his first hung, containing a revolver, but one of the sons grabbed the pistol and put a bullet through his father's heart.

Maxwell Appeals for Mercy. St. Louis, Jan. 31.—Hugh M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, the slayer of O. Arthur Frolic, has written an appeal to the American people asking for fair play and justice. He recollects the cry of his sturdy old father and says that the law is cruel; that justice should be tempered with mercy and that he is a fit subject for a hanging, commuted to a revolver, but one of the sons grabbed the pistol and put a bullet through his father's heart.

ARCHIE REID.

A BLIZZARD

As one business man said to another, "This sale of Bostwick & Sons is a REGULAR DAKOTA BLIZZARD,—that is, they have swept all competition out of sight. The prices they are making on ALL goods SURPRISE the people; and as they say, they are selling Dry Goods CHEAPER than ever before known at any sale. Besides this, they have got the goods to SELL, and they are not afraid to SELL them REGARDLESS of quantity."

Why, just imagine 300 rolls of Carpet, the finest in the land, at PRIME COST; 500 packages of all manner of Dry Goods at cost. Some Special things: 10 pieces of Cloaking, made by the McLean Manufacturing Co., at 75c a yard, 54 inches wide—the best value of any one thing in the sale; and everything on the same order; 150 dozen Hoods and Nubias the same; 1,000 dozen Hosiery the same. Right here we will speak of a little lot of Gents' Scarlet UNDERWEAR that we are selling at 87 1-2c; this lot of goods was bought by our auction man from a bankrupt sale; the same goods have been sold at $1.75. This is no "competitors' talk," but fact. Also 500 Ladies' and Children's Underwear that are cheap indeed. Prints, Gingham, Satines and all kinds of wash goods on the same low scale during this sale. Well may our competitors stand Awe Stricken at this grand panorama of goods offered at such LOW figures; and when the people come to buy they will find the goods and not be greeted with "just out." 'Sample Corsets,' being handled by everybody, are apt to breed disease; they are the kind we throw away.
